

THOUSANDS AT WORK TO PREVENT BREAKS SOUTH OF MEMPHIS

EVERY EFFORT IS BEING EXERTED TO STRENGTHEN EMBANKMENTS AT BENDS.

GREAT NEED OF FOOD

Conditions All Along Flood Course Are Becoming Worse as Need For Food and Clothing Grows.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Memphis, April 9.—Dikes guarding thousands of fertile acres of Arkansas and Mississippi river-belt from early today, but where the tremendous force of the river was hurled against the embankments at the bends in the river, breaches seemed imminent.

At the long stretches of the Yazoo and Delta territory thousands of men labored all night to strengthen the levees against the oncoming flood. In villages and on farms in the threatened territory in north Mississippi and north Arkansas, the people are ready for instant flight.

is a Problem.

The problem of caring for the flood victims is proving a serious one. The greater number of those driven from their homes so far have sought refuge was drowned near Tiptonville yesterday when his boat capsized.

Natchez, Miss., April 9.—The slight crevice in the subsidiary Gishland levee near Natchez yesterday, makes little change in the Yazoo and Delta river situation. Federal engineers in charge of the southern branch assert that the few miles of territory to be flooded are not inhabited and the break will not affect Natchez nor Vandalia.

Warned With Bullets.

The purser of the steamer "Kato Adams" told today of an experience the boat encountered thirty miles south of Memphis. To avoid treacherous currents the pilot of the steamer had shifted the course near the Arkansas shore. Directly a party of men appeared at the top of the levee and shouted through a megaphone. The pilot called back he could not understand. In a minute a hail of bullets from repeating rifles cracked about the woodwork of the pilothouse. Then the steamer's wheelman understood. He shifted his steamer back into the levee.

Calo, Ill., April 9.—The levee around Calo remained firm today. The river gauge registered 63.9 feet, with a falling tendency. Paid and volunteer guards will remain on the levee until the water subsides below the flood stage.

Rise at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., April 9.—The Mississippi river rose 2 of a foot here today and elsewhere from points above, except St. Paul. Below La Crosse every station as far as St. Louis reports a fall. A continued rise here for several days is predicted and here tomorrow the river and levees will begin rising.

At Hickman, Ky., Tiptonville, Tenn., Forrest City, and Helena, Ark., and in this city.

Tented City.

In Memphis the interstate fair grounds have been converted into a tented city and the associated charities are directing relief measures. At Hickman approximately two thousand, five hundred persons are being cared for. Capt. Logan of the United States army has charge of the situation at that point and an agent of the Red Cross society is assisting him.

National Guardsmen.

Capt. Logan of the Tennessee national guard has taken charge of the situation at Tiptonville. Local organizations are helping for those at Forrest City, at the edge of the flood in St. Francis and Crittenden counties in Arkansas. Over one thousand persons, mostly half of them refugees from the flood, are at Hickory, Tenn., nine miles below Tiptonville. In Lake county, this morning, practically without food.

Under Water.

The one-story houses there no longer are habitable and the two-story houses are crowded. The remainder of the community is out on a hill side with food or shelter. Their stock is without provender. The high water resulting from the break below Hickman did not reach the vicinity of Hickory until yesterday morning. Then it rose rapidly.

Have Provisions.

Provisions will have to be landed on skiffs and launched to reach Hickory. A current running seven or eight miles an hour must be encountered and the task of relieving the town will be perilous. Two steamboats reached Tiptonville yesterday afternoon with provisions.

Are Picked Up.

At Bass Landing fifty-three sufferers were picked up without shoes. A Mrs. Baker and two children on a raft made of two logs, were their place of refuge for three days. They were rescued near Broken, Tenn. Whose rescue was broken out among the children of the refugees at Tiptonville. Two negro children died yesterday. Several white children in the court house are in critical condition. Louis Van Pool, aged seventeen years,

STILL WORK TO SAVE STEAMSHIP ONTARIO

Crew of Forty Fight Flames Among Cotton Bales in Vessel Today With Hope of Saving It.

Montreal, April 9.—The fire which broke out early yesterday among the cotton bales in the hold of the Merchants and Miners line steamship "Ontario," was still blazing today. At daylight Captain Pond and his crew of forty, many of whom had not slept for thirty hours, were still pumping water into the hold.

Three revenue cutters, two wrecking tugs and two life saving crews were nearby to lend aid, and if necessary to take of the crew. Because of the "Ontario's" position on the rocks, the vessel could do but little shifting while the crew on board fought the flames on the burning ship. Much of the "Ontario's" cargo was unloaded during the night into wrecking barges alongside and most of the turpentine and resin in the ship's afterhold was removed.

Captain Pond is of the opinion that when the fire is once extinguished the vessel can be saved.

IMPORTANT CONTEST AT ILLINOIS POLLS

Voters Are Grappling With First Presidential Primary Vote, the Result of Which Is Eagerly Awaited.

Chicago, April 9.—Voters are today engaged in casting their ballots in the contest which is history the most important in the history of Illinois. The day dawned beautifully and indications are for fair weather. Shortly after the first voters reached their polling places when the sun came out and early in the day it was expected that more votes would be cast than at any primary election in the state before would be recorded.

The election is important nationally for there is for the first time in Illinois a preferential vote. Preference will be only republican and democrat. The names of President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt and Robert M. La Follette appeared on the republican ballot and those of Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson on the democratic.

All have either made personal campaigns or have had representatives campaign the state. In Chicago some of the women are vastly interested in the election. A little while here putting the proposition of whether or not women suffrage should be permitted in the state. In the vicinity of Chicago it is said, that the voters are making their way to the polls in boats. In many instances, in other parts of the flooded district voters are experiencing much inconvenience in reaching the voting booths. The polls closed at six o'clock this morning and closed at five this afternoon.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PREVENT FRAUDS

Corps of Detectives Employed in River Wards in Chicago to Prevent Fraudulent Voting.

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—Extensive precautions to prevent fraud at the polls were taken by County Judge John E. Owens when 150 private detectives and 50 city detectives and a corps of others were employed and assigned to duty at polling places in the river wards to watch for irregularities. They were supplemented by a corps of several hundred university students.

The first violence reported was in the 8th congressional district on the west side where Alderman John Powers is opposing the re-nomination of Congressman Thomas Gallagher, a democrat. Three men were shot and a woman was severely beaten by three unidentified men at one of the polling places. No arrests were made.

Violence between negro workers for Taft and Roosevelt was averted in one of the precincts of the second ward on the south side by the prompt arrival of the police in response to a riot call. Each side accused the other of unfair tactics and several of the leaders engaged in heated arguments and threats of violence before the police arrived on the scene. Mrs. A. O. Erickson, wife of an assistant states attorney, caused confusion among workers for women suffrage in the 23d ward by appearing at the polls and opposing votes for women.

FAVOR INSTRUCTION OF STATE DELEGATES

New York Republicans Meet at Rochester to Decide on Instructing Delegates For Taft.

Rochester, N. Y., April 9.—Delegates and representatives attending the convention that met here today with the Chicago national convention for the purpose of adopting a platform, were carefully canvassed today to ascertain their sentiments regarding the instruction of delegates for President Taft and the delegates agreed that the decision would probably not be reached until tonight.

The evening session met at eleven o'clock and after hearing the address of temporary Chairman Nicholas Murray Butler and announcement of Murray was expected to adjourn until tomorrow. The declaration of Senator Root and his open coming to the "Big Four" should be instructed, gave an impetus to such a movement.

Meanwhile State Chairman Barnes and his friends declare that President Taft's opposition, both now and later, in the national convention would be strengthened by an instructed delegation. There are reports that a form of compromise on instruction would be reached today as to whether the administration should be endorsed and the terms as to whether the delegates should be instructed for President Taft and instructed for him. The committee on resolutions will not only grant a platform, but will declare openly for the "Big Four" and is expected to settle the question of instruction. Senator Root, Chairman Root, William Herrli of Brooklyn, and Speaker Edwin Merritt, Jr., of the state assembly, will probably be spoken of as likely delegates to Chicago.

"If a resolution instructing for President Taft is not agreed upon, by the New York county committee, this forenoon, such a resolution will be introduced on the floor of the convention." If the question is taken to the convention floor Senator Root is expected to make a speech urging an instructed delegation for President Taft. Senator Root brought with him from Washington a letter from President Taft and Vice-president Sherman on the question of instructing the delegates, which he showed some of the delegates. The president wrote that he would appreciate instructions by the convention in his behalf, while the vice-president asked that his friends be urged to use their influence in bringing about an instructed delegation. Leaders who agreed with Chairman Barnes that the delegates should not be instructed, express the opinion that the matter would be settled amicably by the committee on resolutions.

NECESSITY IS MASTER NOW AND NOT DESIRE

By J. R. HAMILTON

Easter has come and gone. Last week's desires are this week's necessities. What you wanted then you must have now. To wear your old suit or old hat any longer is a travesty on spring. What you pay in dollars for new clothes is not half what you will pay in pride for continuing in your old ones.

It is a wise woman who knows how to give up. It is a new one, but it is a wiser woman who knows when to give up trying.

You haven't a million years either in which to look your best. Remember that. A man can go in for purple ties and lavender socks till he slides clear into the toothless age of liquid foods and dodders along on a crutch. But a woman has to be able to live up to her colors every day of her life.

SAYS KENTUCKY REPORTS ARE MOST MISLEADING

Washington, April 9.—In a detailed statement on the Kentucky situation given out by the Taft headquarters today, United States Senator Bradley of Kentucky, asserted that the "claims" of the Roosevelt managers are utterly unreliable because they are entirely false in many respects and partly false in others.

Bradley, manager for Col. Roosevelt, yesterday wrote President Taft that officials holding in Kentucky had assisted in "stealing" delegates for the president at the Saturday election of delegates to the state convention.

COLLISION THROWS SCORES INTO RIVER

Two Steamers on Nile Crashed Together Last Evening Drowning a Large Number of Passengers.

Calcutta, Egypt, April 9.—A large number of passengers drowned last evening by the striking of a Nile excursion steamer after a collision with another steamer on the river about fifteen miles from the northwest of Cairo, a few miles from Kalyud.

The steamer had 300 passengers on board who had taken advantage of the Easter holiday to make a trip to the river dam. On the return journey up stream and not far from the dam the excursion boat collided with another steamer and sank almost immediately.

All on board were thrown into the river but many lives were saved by the vessel with which the steamer had collided.

Another passenger steamer and a few boats from the shore went to the rescue and picked up many of those struggling in the water. It is not known yet how many lives were lost and the identity of those recovered has not been ascertained.

If you have already made your self ready for spring, then comes your home. We can go over our own apparel four times a year, but the things that our house has to wear, we go over once.

And every home is a photograph of the lives within it.

There is furniture to be fixed and furniture to be bought. There are rugs to be bought and rugs to be cleaned. Walls get soiled and wall paper grows stale. Of course, if you have treated your home like a mausoleum, it would spoil the picture to change it, but the house that has been lived in for a year, is certainly ready for repair.

A part of this paper today has been published to help you and your home. While the editorial department has been securing the general news of the world, the business department has been gathering together the advertising news of the stores.

Every merchant in this city who has something important to say to you is publishing his news here for your benefit. He knows that his news must be as interesting as any other news in the paper or you will not read it. He knows that it must benefit you or it will not profit him.

And every business of merit is represented here.

Learn to read the advertising as carefully as you do any other news. Out of this paper today you can buy everything you need for yourself, your family and your home, and buy it all to the very best advantage both for quality and price.

WHAT MOVING DAY IS EXPECTED TO BRING

Epidemic of Change Each Spring That is Found Even in Cities the Size of Janesville.

May 1st, the annual moving day prescribed by law, and by tens of thousands, is fast approaching. In a few isolated cases April first saw the annual migration, but the majority of the houses run from May to May, and consequently May first has become the accepted time for the tearing up of the boxes and contents of the average household, either for moving or spring house-cleaning.

It is strange how this germ of unrest pervades the spring atmosphere. It is like the early flies, it multiplies. Janesville has in process of construction many new buildings and some are already completed. These have all been rented for months ahead, showing the demand for modern houses at even a good rate of rental. When asked why so many spring changes are brought about one center divided it into classifications.

They want a change.
They have spring fever.
They want more room.
They want to live in a flat with no furnace to care for.
They want a smaller apartment or house to reduce expenses.
They don't like the landlord.
They don't like their neighbors.
They don't like the school the children attend.

They want more ground so that the children can play at home.
They want more sunshine and lighter homes.
In Janesville there is not such a large choice to pick from. The field is limited thus far. The building of flats is a venture and local capital is not investing in this sort of security. There are plenty of vacant places where good flats or apartment houses would be a paying venture and there are plenty of tenants who would quickly rent them, but as one business man expressed it:

"Janesville is a city of homes. We have no large transient population here for a few months and then go away again. Our working men own their own homes. In fact, I do not think there is any city in the state where more homes are owned by the individual than in Janesville. It is a problem of building houses for rent."

Another man who owns houses that rent well, stated that the present high cost of building material prevented the construction of many new houses in a season. "Why, it costs too much for the rental you receive," he stated. "When you have figured on a thirty-five hundred or four thousand dollar house you find the figures run up even higher and then you have your taxes, insurance, wear and tear to reckon with and you ask a fair rental and it is thought to be too high. Too many people own their own homes, and those that do not are most often not the most desirable tenants, often being transients or working people, but a few months here, and then moving away."

Despite the lack of modern homes and the moving complex state there is a large demand for homes, and just before May first and that the changes this year will be many. This is true in all parts of the city and with the spring moving comes the spring cleaning so that it is safe to say the day has its horrors for the average householder.

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia Go and You Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapensin in the house as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach in five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 5-cent case of Papo's Diapensin, and take a little just as soon as you eat. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Papo's Diapensin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery at any drug store, waiting for you.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF CITY'S BUSINESS

Mayor-Elect Fathers and Councilmen Elect Cummings and Millmore Hold Frequent Conferences.

Plans for the reorganization of the city government under the commission charter, the division of its functions among three departments each of which will be headed by the mayor or one of the two councilmen, and the appointment of the work to, each are being discussed and broadly outlined at frequent conferences of Mayor-elect James A. Fathers, and Councilmen-elect Roy Cummings and Clarence Millmore. Final action on these questions will be taken at one of their initial meetings early next week by the passage of an ordinance of organization, in accordance with the provisions of the statute which require that every act of the council shall be by ordinance or resolution.

Although the organization plans have not matured it is now practically assured that Mayor-elect Fathers will head the department of Public Health and Safety, embracing the fire and police departments; that Roy M. Cummings will have supervision of Streets and Public Works, falling in the spheres of Mr. Millmore will be public buildings and parks.

According to the state law the commission is entitled to be represented by one member on the Fire and Police Commission. This place it is understood will fall to Mr. Fathers, who will succeed Walter L. Taylor, whose term of office expires May 1. The place on the school board will probably go to Mr. Millmore, and the one on the library board to Mr. Cummings.

The principal work of the commission for the first week will be to make appointments to the office of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and others. It is intended to consider the officers named as assistants, the members of the commission retaining the power of direction and supervision, and assuming responsibility. If the statute is so construed as to make it obligatory they will be given signatorial rights and powers. The members of the commission aim to economize in every possible way, though never at the expense of efficiency.

With the intention of coming to a complete understanding with the Fire and Police Commission and discussing the condition of the fire and police departments, Messrs. Fathers, Cummings, and Millmore met with that body at three o'clock this afternoon. As their relations will be very close and harmony is essential, to their effective co-operation this meeting is very timely and will undoubtedly accomplish its purpose.

The Councilmen have not yet drawn lots to determine who will have the long, and who the short term.

In order to gain a better acquaintance with the management of city business under a commission Mayor-elect Fathers will visit Appleton tomorrow and Thursday to make a survey of the local situation. Last week he visited Eau Claire for the same purpose. Cummings and Millmore hope to visit Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a city of 32,000 which has been working under commission government with marked success for several years.

Beloit Club Invites Many Local People to Attend Party—Lakotas Given Special Invitation.

Plans are being made by a number of local young people to attend the Easter ball given by the Arlton club of Beloit, this evening. As this club has the reputation of giving excellent parties, it is a matter of congratulation that the members of the Lakota Club should be given bids to attend. Kroll's orchestra has been secured, and the preparations are reported to be of the very best possible. Those from here who have decided to go this evening are the Messrs. Vera Lynde, Elmo Jones, and Gertrude Kelle and Messrs. Oscar Yahn and Walter Atris and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDaniel.

UNIQUE CLUB DANCE A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Assembly Hall Was Scene of Pretty Party Attended by Two Hundred Couples Last Evening.

Two hundred couples enjoyed the thirtieth annual ball given by the Unique club at Assembly hall last evening. The affair marked the first of the post-Lenten social events which now promise to occupy the attention of Janesville society in a renewed whirl.

The hall was decorated in a beautiful and artistic manner; streamers of artificial pink carnations were hung from the side walls to the ceiling with a very pleasing effect. The music was furnished by Hatch's six-piece orchestra including the xylophone artist.

The dance program was not completed until after one o'clock. The guests were lavish in their praise of the affair which was one of the most successful ever given by the club.

The committee in charge of the event was: Edward Jerg, Richard McEwan, Fred Elmer, Frank George, and Tony Benkert.

WRECK AT BARDWELL NARROWLY AVERTED

Parlor Car Derailed as Chicago Train Pulled into Junction Last Night on Way to This City.

While drawing into Bardwell last evening on its way north to this city, the Chicago train No. 137, which goes here at 7:30, narrowly escaped a serious accident when a parlor car was derailed. The cause of the accident was not known, but it was thought to have been something faulty on the car itself as the rest of the train had passed over that spot just before. Had the train been running at a high rate of speed instead of just entering the station, there would probably have been more serious consequences, but as it was no one was hurt. The Municipal Point train which leaves here at 7:10 was delayed for some time and 137 arrived about an hour and thirty minutes late because of the accident.

Engineer Cox left for Chicago Saturday afternoon where he will be a resident of the hospital for the next month. Mr. Cox has been suffering from injuries received on the road last fall and is going to take special treatment in Chicago.

Business is very quiet on roads running into this city just at present and indications point to a probable decrease of the present traffic.

FELIX WAS GAME BUT FINK SAW THE OPENER.

by DAN McCARTY -

When Ping Balle, the heavy hitting White Sox holder, arrived at the spring training camp he was considerably overweight. Now if there is one thing that Manager Callahan is a crank on more than another it is form. The following incident during the White Sox stay in Oklahoma City is graphically told by one of the team who happened to overhurl the conversation:

Ping came in after the fifth inning. "You certainly are fat," began the manager.

"I'm not fat," was Ping's retort. Then he showed how many notches he had taken in his belt since he started training. He declared that he was lighter than he was last year and that if he took off much more weight he would be nothing but a shadow.

"But think of the base runner you would be if you were lighter," continued Callahan.

"I'm base runner enough," retorted Ping. One of his ambitions is to become a fleet man on the paths.

"I was just thinking of running in," began Callahan.

"Not for me," howled Ping. "It's three miles in and I've got to finish playing this ball game."

"But we will beat them in," continued Cal, flaring that Balle would fall.

"I don't want to beat them in," Balle said so because I'm liable to hit in this inning and I need the batting practice."

"Come on, Ping," was Callahan's command. But still Ping held out.

"I can't," Balle gloved out in center field and I can't leave it there and I can't go out now, the umpire won't let me. I wouldn't lose that glove for anything in the world. I've just got it broken in right and I wouldn't take anything for that glove."

"Never mind," from Cal. "We will start."

So they started, with the manager heading the two-man procession. It was three miles to the hotel. But the manager hit a pretty fast clip, and went right on going. When they reached the hotel Ping was perspiring. And that wasn't all he was doing either. He was sweating, but not so the manager could hear him.

America's most likely candidate for Marathon hours at the Olympic games next summer may not flout Uncle Sam's emblem in the athletic classic. Clarence De Mar, who won the Boston A. A. run last season and annexed that honors in the Brooklyn Marathon last fall, is incident in his declaration that he will not participate in the Boston A. A. race on Patriots' day, April 19. This race has been sanctioned by the A. A. U., as the official tryout for Olympic possibilities for the Olympiad. The American Olympic committee has issued an edict that all candidates must compete in the official tryouts in order to be considered eligible for the team. If the committee adheres to this ruling De Mar may as well be marked off the list. De Mar contends that as the official tryout race is but three weeks off it would be impossible for him or any other runner, for that matter, to get into condition in this space of time, for such a long, grueling race.

PIANO RECITAL WAS GIVEN AT CHURCH LAST EVENING.

Miss Grace Murphy Gave Fine Program Under the Direction of Miss Mattie Crowley.

Miss Grace Murphy, a pupil of Miss Mattie Crowley, gave a delightful piano recital at the Congregational church last evening. There was a large attendance of friends and invited guests who enjoyed the selections which were given with a rare touch of feeling and artistic expression. Miss Murphy responded to numerous encores and demonstrated that her abilities covered a wide range of music.

One of the numbers on the program was a festival procession march played by four young ladies, the Misses Grace Murphy, Ada Fletcher, Ethel Crowley and Catherine Jones. This was exceedingly well rendered and also merited an encore from the audience.

The four hand work will be continued tonight and the musical is open to the public. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor:

To come right to the point we sometimes wonder why so many people go out of town to buy so many goods of one kind and another of which large stocks are shown in Janesville. No merchant objects to people going to the large city to find assortments of certain things higher in price than a merchant would be warranted in carrying a stock of. We refer particularly to people who make their living in this city, who depend on Janesville people to keep their business going.

In many cases it is because the head of the house is too good natured about it, does not make it his business to show his family the folly of it. Almost invariably more is paid for goods in the large city. There is Mrs. S. and Mrs. Q. and Mrs. R. nothing good enough for them in the old home town, must go away or bust. Amusing isn't it?—Really ridiculous to see the spirit encouraged by parents, getting highfalootin notions into their daughters' heads, and all helping along the high cost of living. A better class of goods and larger stocks are being carried by Janesville merchants than ever before. His investments are represented and they need the encouragement of home folks. He loyal to your home town, it's the only way to make prosperity—why fatten up the large city houses by paying more than you would in Janesville, just to put on a little ego.

The earth will look just as good to you in a Janesville gown even if it does cost five dollars less than the large city production. Really this is a serious matter and should be well thought over by every one who is making his dollars in this city.

It offers them its heartiest support in all measures which work for the benefit of the city and will stand behind them to show up some of the rotten conditions that have been permitted to exist in the past when the proper time comes to justify their action. THE LONELY OLD WOMAN.

Did you ever stop to think of the lonely old age of the woman who sees but a few years between herself and the poor house or the grave? Did you ever watch the old woman who struggle along to keep themselves independent? Who, in winter and summer, washes, cleans, her poor old back nearly broken by the hard labor. Her hands knotted and worn with the years of toil. Her gray hair sparse and scraggly, her shoulders thin and scrawny. Yet she works on. Have you seen her going and coming from her daily work, a shawl over her head and shoulders, through snow and frost in winter, rain and sunshine, her iron-bound glasses perched on her nose awry, her face lined with care and privation, and not wondered of her story? What the future had in store for her? Was she a widow, deserted by her children, or have they gone to the world beyond and left her behind to struggle alone with but the poor house or the grave open for her in the end?

The world is full of these women. You see them every day if you but take to look. Women who suffer in silence and for whom the busy, everyday world puts farther and further back into the corner to make room for other workers. It is a pitiful story told in a glance.

In another column will be found a story of the way in which Wisconsin is to be taboed by foreign corporations doing extensive business here because of the state laws. It is a lesson that should be home to every citizen and taxpayer of Janesville and be remembered when the time comes to elect the next legislature.

The question of the purchase of the local Water Works company, the water works plant, mind you, may be accomplished some day, but for the present it would be well for the new commission to take care in who they select as city attorney, as he is going to need lots of legal knowledge before he is through.

It would appear as though Uncle Sam is going to have his hands full caring for the homeless along the Mississippi valley and also keeping the Mexicans quiet.

Band concerts in the parks during the summer should be accomplished by some method and the sooner the ways and means are discussed the better for all concerned.

China has not been on the front page with scare heads for some days, neither have the Turks or Italians. Doubtless both countries are much disturbed over the state of affairs.

Illinois today is enjoying the primary election. A week ago Wisconsin went through with the same mental process and came up smiling. The Clark men especially so.

The spring moving epidemic will soon hit Janesville with full force and there will be lots of enthusiasm about getting settled in the new home.

Rock river is still rising and showing what he might do if only given a half way decent chance to exhibit his prowess.

PRESS COMMENT.

The Colonel's One Tune. Stoughton Courier-Examiner.—Roosevelt has pulled all his issues down to the one generally and universally accepted and non-controverted proposition, "Let the People Rule." Who in thunder is preventing the people ruling? And if anybody was fool enough to try it, how could he succeed? We have the same fundamental law our wise forefathers bequeathed to us. Nobody except a progressive wants to change it. So long as we have it, the people cannot be prevented from ruling unless, perchance, they should be dupes enough to revolt the honorable "Ted" for president this year, in which event he would be the people for the next four years and would rule which in his opinion would be tantamount to the people ruling. There is something mighty peculiar about the fellows who are demanding something for the people which the people now have. Every mother's son of them wants an office. If he gets what he wants, the people rule; if he don't the people don't rule, and all the evidence that can be adduced to show they rule will convince him that they do.

What Do You Think?

Madison State Journal.—"The situation in America today is that of a vast reservoir filled to the point where the dam is breaking, with the valley below filled with homes. The water must be let away. In case of hesitation, the valley will be devastated. We must devise a method of carrying the water away and we must work fast."

Is this an anarchist speaking? No, this is the report of the words of Woodrow Wilson, guest of honor at the Ironquels Club, Chicago.

When you recall the recent words of Cardinal Gibbons, where he said that all the conditions preceding the downfall of Rome were in evidence here in America today, what should you, a thoughtful citizen, think about it?

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Roy K. Moulton.

HOPE AHEAD. As folks ain't worried any more about high prices at the store. The cost of living is passing. Because we've figured out a way to get rich and keep eating, too. It's something everyone should do. Because we'll surely have by fall a bank account, by folks of means. And have some loose change in our jeans.

Financial trouble now will pass—We're raising our own garden sassa. We've used a little common sense and spent our coin for implements. To till the ground and make things grow.

It's cost us fifty bucks or so, but what is that? It's not so grave. Consider! What we will save. With radishes five cents a bunch. We've somehow got a life-sized hunch that we are going to lay away a big roll for a rainy day. A fortune surely will amass. By raising our own garden sassa.

We've spent a lot of coin for seeds. And all we've raised so far is weeds. But pa says just to watch his smoke. He'll make the hunksters all go broke. Of course, he's said that every spring. Until he quite believes the thing. Last year we got three onions and a radish that was simply grand. On gardening our mother's quite a pessimist. Her interest's slight. For years she's seen a crop of grass grow up instead of garden sassa!

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

Report says grand opera pays in New York. It would be more nearly correct to say that the people pay. The people of Ecuador take no chances. They have shot, beheaded and buried one of their generals. They are getting even with Colonel Henry Watkinson at last by mentioning him for Vice-President.

Are Books of Interest.

A number of copyrighted books of merit have been offered on the local book markets at reduced prices including some of the works of William De Morgan. Joseph Vance is his first novel and has been a tremendous success. It is a story of English life which captures the heart and banishes melancholy.

Joseph Vance's father is a human sparrow that picks up crumbs from the table of the rich through a business scheme, that draws its sustenance from his shrewd knowledge of men and the good luck that waits upon the opportunist. Joseph graduates from this home school and spreads his own wings in the world, enthralling the reader with experiences, not the least of which is an affair wherein he finds it is possible for a man to love two women at once.

Other novels by De Morgan "Afterthought," "Somehow Good," "It Can Never Happen Again," and "An Affair of Dishonor."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE CONQUEROR, MAN.

"Thou shalt have dominion." When the Jewish exiles left Babylon, 500 B. C., to go back to Jerusalem to build the second temple, using oxen, mules and camels, they were four months on the road.

Little dreamed they of the day of railroads or of electricity.

Nowadays man travels on the earth and under the earth, on the water and under the water and through the air.

Wonderful conquests. But—Man's greatest conquests are over the animal life of the world. Long ago he conquered the big elephants and the wild horse. And now science is breeding and using insect life to destroy man's most pestiferous enemies.

For instance: Since it has been discovered that the mosquito is one of the most dangerous of the microbes carrying insects war has been declared. The agricultural department is breeding the "darning needle" insect with which to destroy the predatory mosquito.

"Swat the fly" is a national slogan. We are just beginning to discover what the fly does to us. And so our government is breeding a certain species of wasp that is able to sting the household fly and destroy that disease bringing pest.

And then there are the good microbes. One sort of bacteria is being cultivated that is used to enrich the soil and thus help the husbandman.

Another kind of microbe is being employed in anti-gas tanks to purify city sewage. Great tanks filled with these little scavengers, invisible to the naked eye, make way with the refuse that is drained into the receptacle.

Man is having doubtless. He is using the good insects and microbes to destroy the bad—doing indirectly what he is unable to do directly.

To be able to go from Chicago to New York in eighteen hours is a great feat, but a thousand times more important is that sort of dominion that frees man from the dangers of contagion and disease and prolongs human life.

Some day man shall have conquered the animal pests as he has conquered the beasts of the wild.

Man was made to have dominion.

Peace and War.

If in peace the soldier and the sailor abandon themselves to ease and sloth, when war comes they will go down before their rivals who have been less self-indulgent.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Are You Getting the Utmost for Your Money in the Telephone Field?

The value of a telephone lies in the number of people the system can connect you with. Unless you can reach the people you want to reach, you might as well have a "play" telephone on your wall or desk.

Figuring that you want the utmost that your money will buy we suggest that you ought to have the Rock County Telephone.

The Rock County has a list of subscribers containing nearly twice as many names as our Wall street competitor—the Bell System. That ought to have some weight when you decide on a telephone.

Another weighty matter consists of the fact that the Rock County is a home company, owned by home people, your neighbors and friends. The money you pay for a Rock County phone is spent in Janesville, not sent to Wall street, to the octopus.

Then, too, we brought the telephone rates down to their present scale when we entered the telephone field and have kept them down; saved you money in other words.

WHEN MAY WE INSTALL A ROCK COUNTY TELEPHONE IN YOUR HOME.

IS BROTHER DUTTON A LEPROSY VICTIM?

REPORT FROM NEW YORK ANNOUNCES HE HAS BEEN STRICKEN WITH CREAM DISEASE.

SAID HE FACES DEATH

Recent Letters Received by Local Friends Made No Mention of the Supposed Affliction.

Has Brother Ira Dutton, formerly a resident of Janesville and for the past decade or two head of the Loper colony at Molokai, been stricken with the dread disease and is he facing death as the result of his work among the unfortunate?

New York dispatches to the Chicago Record Herald state that Father Wynne, editor of the Catholic Encyclopedia of New York, is authority for the statement, claiming to have received this advice direct from Brother Dutton himself. Friends in Janesville, however, are doubtful as regards the matter, letters having been received from him within the past few weeks making no mention of such a sad occurrence.

In fact the Gazette was recipient of a letter from him last week with a complete report of the Loper colony and his work among the unfortunate. No mention was made of his illness or any word that intimated he had been come infected with the disease. The Chicago dispatch is as follows and will be read with interest by Brother Dutton's many friends here, some of whom remember him when he clerked in James Sutherland's store previous to entering the army in 1861.

Brother Dutton, it is said, is confronting the leper's death with as much fortitude as Father Damien displayed when he knew himself to be stricken. Word was received the other day that Brother Dutton is now dying in a hut in the Loper colony of Marau, Madagascar. Like Father Damien, Brother Dutton will know only one solace in his affliction; he will be permitted to say mass as long as his strength permits in the rude hut which will soon serve as his death chamber.

Brother Dutton, or Captain Ira Barnes Dutton, as he was known before entering the missionary field, is a civil war veteran. Enlisting as a member of a Janesville, Wisconsin company, he rose to the rank of Captain. After the war he entered the service of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, subsequently joining the Dominican Fathers at Memphis. He was living in a Trappist monastery when the story of Father Damien's heroic work at Molokai reached him. When Father Damien died in 1889 Brother Dutton succeeded him.

But for the accident which took Robert Louis Stevenson to the South Seas the story of Father Damien's life would have reached a much smaller circle of readers. Father Damien the novelist believed, had been grossly slandered. With characteristic generosity Stevenson rushed to the priest's defense, and the open letter in which Stevenson attacked his detractors contains the most bitter invective the novelist ever penned. The revelation of Father Damien thus became known to all the world.

In an article written for the Catholic Encyclopedia Brother Dutton says that leprosy first appeared in the Hawaiian Islands in 1823. Segregation was begun in 1865. In 1908 the leper colony at Molokai numbered 791.

JANESVILLE FEELS FIRST EFFECTS OF RATE REGULATIONS

Knickerbocker Company to Move Gravel Sifting Plant to Fox Lake, Ill., Because of High Freight Rates.

In the decision of the Knickerbocker Ice company to move its gravel and sand-sifting plant from this city to Fox Lake, Ill., Janesville feels the first effects of the revision upward of the freight rates on these commodities, for it is precisely this reason which led the Knickerbocker company to take the step.

The removal of the plant will be a considerable loss to Janesville, as it gave employment to about fifty men who will either follow the plant to its new location or secure work elsewhere. The plant is equipped with expensive machinery and has a large output. It has not been learned how soon the removal will take place, but it is understood that it will be at an early date.

RIDICULOUS CRY OF STAGE DEGENERACY.

Despite the enormous success of E. H. Southern and Julia Marlowe, this splendid organization having been booked to appear at the Myers Theatre on Wednesday evening, April 17, in "The Taming of the Shrew," we are surprised by the information, every little while, that "Shakespeare, so far as our stage is concerned, is no more."

Amazing information, indeed. If there is one thing above any other that will serve to "turn the mental stomach" of the same theatre goer it is the perpetual value of a certain motose and sorrowful set of people who are forever lamenting over the "degeneration of the drama."

The wonder is that there is any corner left for the poor, old, decrepit drama to slink or decline into.

The theatre is not intended, plays are not written, or productions made for the "lamentation squad"; yet they are the ones who are eternally wailing like lost souls over the degeneration and final taking off of the drama!

There is no putting these people down. They have existed in all ages and will continue to appear in ages to come. The great French critic, M. Sorel, took a good deal of interest in this question of the perpetual "degeneration of the drama." It amused him immensely, naturally so, for M. Sorel was none of your morning, disgruntled sort—and besides he was "wonderfully sane." Here is a curious tale made by M. Sorel:

1788—Causes de la décadence du théâtre.

1771—Du théâtre et des causes de sa décadence.

1807—Les causes de la décadence du théâtre.

1828—Considérations sur les causes de la décadence du théâtre.

1841—Recherches sur les causes de la décadence du théâtre.

1842—A quelles causes attribuer la décadence de la tragédie en France.

1849—De la décadence de l'art dramatique.

1860—De la décadence des théâtres.

1866—Rapport au Sénat sur la décadence de l'art dramatique.

1871—De la décadence des théâtres.

1876—Cris d'alarme sur la situation de l'art dramatique.

1880—Du théâtre auver.

Now, is it not wonderful that there is anything left on the French stage "to decay?" That every patch and shred of the carcass has not been eaten up by the ravenous microbes, is a cause for wonder. But it is not alone in France that this sort of thing has been going on; witness these specimens from "Lowe's Bibliographical Account of English Theatrical Literature":

RESERVES OF STATE AS SUMMER RESORTS

State Board of Forestry Will Lease Camping Sites on Lake Shores in Oneida and Vilas Counties.

(Special to this Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., April 8.—Believing that the beautiful lake country within the state forest reserves can be developed into summer resorts with great possibilities, the state board of forestry has adopted the policy of leasing camp and cottage sites upon the shores. The state owns several thousand acres upon the shores of some of the most attractive lakes in Oneida and Vilas counties, and can lease sites to suit almost any taste. Cottage sites will be leased to residents of other states as well. From ten to twenty acres will be leased to one person or family and as much more to a club or association as they may actually need. Leases can be given for a period of twenty years with privilege of renewal.

Referring to the fact that the summer resort business in northern New York amounts to $10,000,000 annually, and in Maine to $25,000,000, State Forester E. M. Griffith says:

"This shows that it will well pay Wisconsin to protect its beautiful northern lakes, but if the lake shores and surrounding forests are ruined by annually recurring fires they will cease to be attractive in any sense and the summer trade will go elsewhere."

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

NO PAINT FOR THE PURITANS.

By A. W. MACY.

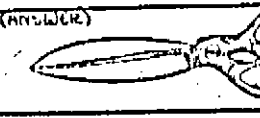

As is well known, the Puritans were extremely plain in their habits of living, and objected to all forms of ornamentation, not only in clothing but in architecture and other things. To a certain extent they were right, for over-ornamentation is never commendable; yet their sometimes carried their ideas of plainness to an extreme that seems ridiculous. In 1830 the Rev. Thomas Allen, a clergyman residing at Charlestown, Massachusetts, was called to account by the authorities for having his house painted. This was a serious charge, but he succeeded in convincing them that the painting had been done before the house came into his possession, and that therefore he was not responsible for it. Moreover, he assured them that he did not approve of it. The first church building erected in Boston was never painted, inside or out. In 1670 a list of all the mechanics in the Massachusetts colony was made out by the authorities, but it did not contain the name of a single painter.

TODAY'S RIDDLE

WHAT IS THAT WHICH DIVIDES BY UNITING, AND UNITES BY DIVIDING?

(ANSWER)

Mrs. A. A. Swagel, Krok, Wis., invariably uses Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds. "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children as I know it will cure their coughs and colds and they like to take it." Badger Drug Co.

There is no marked atmospheric disturbance on the weather map today. The barometric depression that was in the Red River Valley yesterday has now reached the upper Lake Region where it is attended by light rains.

The weather is generally fair in the southwestern states, but rains have continued on the west Gulf coast. It is cloudy in the southern Plains.

West of the Rockies, the atmospheric pressure is slightly below normal with a center of depression in the vicinity of San Francisco. Cloudiness and rainfall accompany this disturbance on the California coast.

In this vicinity the weather will continue fair tonight and Wednesday, with rising temperature Wednesday.

Cut four potatoes into dice, chop three onions and brown in a deep pan with a little minced bacon; when the mixture is evenly browned add hot water and cook until the potatoes are tender. Add a half a can of corn, one tablespoon of butter, seasoning, four crackers rolled, and any cold flaked fish; salmon is excellent. Simmer gently for fifteen minutes and serve immediately.

The young turnips, just appearing on the market, are delicious when steamed, as with new potatoes, or when cooked with lamb. For the latter, butter a casserole well and put in a layer of peeled halved turnips, dust with salt and pepper; on them place a layer of mutton chops seasoned with celery salt and pepper; add another layer of turnips then more chops and a light coating of flour.

Cover with stock and simmer gently for an hour; arrange the chops in the center of a serving platter and use the turnips for a border.

The sauce remaining in the baking dish will be creamy in consistency and taste. Heat cooked asparagus and pour it over and serve on well browned crotons.

For those who like hot, spicy dishes the following is suggested:

Bombay chops—Measure a teaspoon of flour, and to it add an equal quantity of curry powder and a little salt; dredge a broiler size chicken with this and add the vegetables you prefer with the fowl and cook gently in a casserole or covered roaster.

An easily made tomato sauce for all meats and especially pork is this: Rub two cups of tomatoes through a sieve into a porcelain sauce pan, add a teaspoon of sugar, and enough salt and pepper to taste, a tablespoon of vinegar, one of onion juice and

Many preparations are sold under the guarantee that they will remove hair, but any thing of this sort is very harmful indeed as it removes only the surface hair, and another coarser growth is sure to follow. The roots of the hair lie deep in the skin and can be killed only by electricity. A solution of two or three drops of ammonia to an ounce of hydrogen peroxide is said to discourage the growth of hair, but it will not remove it. If this solution causes irritation of the skin dilute it with a few drops of water. (4) A proper care of shiny face or most any pretty piece of them would be acceptable to any bride. HELPFUL HINTS FOR SERVING THE SICK.

Make the tray as attractive as possible, using dishes which look well with the food, when it is possible. If dishes and food light in color it may seem of no importance, but often a sick person is peculiarly sensitive to clashing colors. A well arranged tray will appeal to the eye and a healthy appetite is often coaxied into eating simply because the food looks good.

Fashions in foods change, but the fashion of serving food that is hot, in hot covered dishes, food in cold dishes, is not likely to change.

If possible, serve the tea or coffee in a pot, as an invalid, if able, likes to pour out the beverage and sweeten it to taste.

Never serve large amounts to an invalid, or fill a glass more than two-thirds full; there are several reasons for this. A glass is not easily handled if full, by an unsteady hand, and too large an amount may discourage the patient from even trying the dish, if he thinks he is expected to eat it all. Even when a patient is not recovered that it is necessary to feed him lavishly, one must use judgment in over-serving.

All food and dishes should be at once removed from the sick room. Both food and water absorb impurities.

A bit of green or a flower or two on the tray or in a small vase adds much to its appearance.

Never under any circumstances, without a physician's advice, give liquor in any form. Many consider egg nog ineffective without liquor, but it may be much more so with fruit juices or a dash of nutmeg or vanilla.

Mulled Buttermilk.—Thicken one cup of cream with two tablespoonfuls of flour; cook until smooth. Add a tablespoonful of sugar to the buttermilk and heat to the boiling point, heating all the while with the drier egg beater, then stir in the cream and cook a few minutes. Pour over a well-beaten egg and serve.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING

Where True Hospitality Exists, Sour Milk and Cream Recipes.

BY ALICE E. WHITTAKER.

In the old time when the housewife "did her own work," one extra to dinner meant little. Company invited to tea might entail making three kinds of cake, of offering various sorts of preserves and pickles and of course baking hot biscuits. But for the man or woman who dropped in, or stopped by as they say in some localities, an extra plate was set and perhaps some dainty added in a hurry but the welcome was sincere.

Today the spoken word of welcome is made faint with the fear of what the kitchen may dictate. Safe a friend to me, "One guest means half a dozen with my two maids then half a dozen unexpected guests did to further back in the old home where the hired help enjoyed company and gladly assumed the extra labor."

Probably the sweetest welcome comes as it did generally long ago, from the housewife who is unassisted. Such a woman is generally provident enough to have some stores in reserve and her intelligence and grasp on household affairs make it easy for her to make either the chance or the specially invited guest comfortable and happy. At least I always feel much more confident of my welcome in such a home.

Cooler with a rattle on top appeal strongly to the children. Into the mixing bowl put one cup of sour cream, and one cup of granulated sugar, a pinch of salt, one teaspoon of cream, and one cup of sifted flour.

Beat until thick, then add half a cup of chopped plums, then more for removing it. (4) Please sugar between layers and on top of dish. (5) Best a gift for an April bride.

DINNER STORIES

The boatman was smoldering his clay pipe when he was roused by the tramp of a policeman's regulation boots.

"Have you let out a boat called the Alice today?" demanded the officer of the law.

The boatman looked up in mild surprise. "That's right, mister; a young couple took it about an hour ago."

"Then," said the man in blue, in his best style, "that boat has been found floating bottom side upwards."

He of the pipe paled. "What has happened to the sculls and cushions?" he demanded in husky tones.

"Sculls and cushions?" said the policeman indignantly. "Sculls and cushions indeed! Where are the occupants?"

"Oh, the occupants," drawled the boatman; never mind about them. They paid in advance."

"I say, is this here the novel you advised me to read?" said the policeman to the boatman.

"Yes," replied the boatman, "that's the one."

"Well," said the policeman, "you can just take it back. There's nine people in the first four chapters who lived, and each of them, when he got out, flunk his purpose to the doctor." Now, when I want that sort of literature I'll go to Rodyard Kipling and get it pure."

"I thought that in the fifteen years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible foolish question; but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed salicylate—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the surgery, but returned in a few minutes, wiped his head in the doorway, and asked:

"Shall I drop this in the eye before meals or after?"

Recently at an agricultural meeting the lecturer confined his discourse to the growth of vegetables in general. One of his attentive listeners asked innocently: "What's the best way to kill caterpillars in cabbage?"

"Oh," replied a wag. "Catch them by the two ears and batter the eyes out of them."

The poet led his friend, the politician, to the top of New York's tallest tower to admire the view. The man of politics seemed stunned for a moment by the beauty of the far-flung panorama. Then he spoke in a low, reverent tone: "God! what a lot of assembly districts you can see from here."

It's time to think of flies. Nobody likes to think of flies. But the best way not to be compelled to think about them a whole lot later on is to do a little advance thinking now.

We hear a good deal about fly traps right now. The other day, in a magazine, was a picture of a boy and a heap of dead flies, and a fly trap which the boy had used to catch the flies. There were something like 22,000 flies in that heap. The boy won a prize of $25 for the largest catch of flies.

Fly traps and fly swatters, of course have their use. But they are the "pound of cure." Wouldn't it be better far not to have so many flies to catch or swat?

Here is the ounce of prevention—Don't give the flies a chance to breed in your immediate vicinity. Clean up. Allow no manure or garbage about your house. Teach the children the value of cleanliness. Teach them, also, not to leave doors open, so that when the screen door is up they will be thoughtful enough to close it when they go out.

Keep all foods covered, for if there is a fly around flies will feed on your edibles and infect them with disease. For goodness' sake, screen your house from attic to cellar. Leave no way of ingress for the fly and you will have no cause to complain of his company.

Too many people are stung about screens. Stinginess in screens means either that you are not getting sufficient air into your house because you dare not open unscreened doors and windows, or that you are letting in filth and disease with the flies when the unscreened windows and doors are open.

If you can't afford good wire screens fitted to every window, tack netting across the window frames. It's cheap and will last until cold weather kills the flies.

It is not necessary to fill the house with nasty flytraps, poisoned flypapers or to organize the children into a swatting brigade. Keep the flies out of the house and keep the place clean—that's all.

Those Cold Rooms.

"I wish I knew of some way of having milk first rub a rounding tablespoon of butter into three cups of pastry flour sifted with a quarter teaspoon of salt and a level teaspoon of baking powder. Stir one-half level teaspoon of soda into a cup of thick sour milk, then stir into flour quickly, form a small ball, lay on a greased pan and bake in a quick oven. The baking powder is always an improvement when using sour milk.

A nice light cake to be eaten fresh is made as follows: Beat two eggs to a froth and fill the cup with sour cream, then pour into a bowl and beat hard. Sift one and one-half cups of flour and one-half level teaspoon of soda and a pinch of salt then combine the dry and liquid materials, beat and add one-half teaspoon of lemon flavoring. Bake in a moderate oven and serve when barely cool.

Another sour cream cake requires one pound of raisins seeded and chopped, dissolve a level teaspoon of soda in a teaspoon of water and turn into one-half cup of molasses then stir into one cup of sour cream at once. Stir rapidly as it foams. Add one cup of brown sugar and mix with three and one-half cups of pastry flour sifted with a level teaspoon each of cinnamon and allspice then add the raisins rolled in flour. Bake in a moderate oven about one hour.

COMPLEX DIET DISORGANIZES THE SECRETIONS.

Several English and German investigators have reached the conclusion that cancer is due to the disorganization of the secretions. Nothing tends more to disorganize the secretions than complex diet, as Pavlov has shown that each food requires a variation in the secretions required for its digestion. In all the remarkable cases of longevity quoted by Metchnikoff the diet was confined to two articles including buttermilk, while in the classic case of Cornaro it was grape juice and eggs almost exclusively. Wherever the cancer rate is high centenarians are few and vice versa, the highest rate being in Switzerland, where diet is most complex, with no centenarians, and the lowest in Sofia and Bulgaria, where the cancer rate is lowest, longevity highest and diet most simple.

For a dressing for a vegetable salad use one cup of sour cream, one teaspoon of sugar, one tablespoon of lemon juice in a level teaspoon of salt and a few grains of cayenne. Mix the salt, pepper and sugar in a bowl add the lemon juice and last the vinegar. Beat smooth add the sour cream, beat hard and serve.

Price of Coffee Goes Up and Down

"Many make the mistake of ordering their coffee by the price instead of by the brand. Any woman who always pays the same price per pound for coffee cannot expect to get always the same quality."

"To illustrate, we will say that one pays thirty cents a pound for coffee. When the crop is short, she does not get as good coffee as when there is a plentiful crop. When the crop is short, the grower of necessity must supply a lower grade. It is, therefore, only natural that complaints should result. And the complaint being purely the result of inferior drinking quality."

"There is one coffee that is always the same unvarying good quality. It is the Mex-O-Ja brand, and the price goes up and down with the supply of green coffee."

"Mex-O-Ja is a blend of genuine San Paulo and Mexican varieties, and a pound will make four cups of full, rich-flavored liquor."

"Every package contains sixteen ounces net weight of coffee, put up in a sanitary bag, with a protective carton bearing broad green and red stripes. Most grocers now sell Mex-O-Ja."

You Can Always Cut Even Slices From Bread Made With Matchless Flour

You women of Janesville who know how difficult it is to slice ordinary bread evenly will be delighted with your first baking from Christian's Matchless Flour.

You will find that while your bread is light it slices evenly and easily without crumbling.

This is because the wheat in Matchless Flour is not crushed to a fine dust. The process of milling Matchless Flour is actually a digging out of the white part of the wheat berries and after a succession of careful screenings you have in Matchless Flour a minutely granulated flour instead of a crushed-to-a-dust flour.

You'll like Matchless Flour. Your grocer has it or will get it, telephone him now!

LEONORE. (1) If you are tall for your age your weight ought to be greater than it would be if you were short. But that requires very hard baking. If the crockery ramekins are used, but the real society woman must have separate gowns, I should use the rest of this column. But the frocks I have mentioned must be in the wardrobe of the distinctly middle-class woman, if she wants to be properly dressed at the functions which middle-class society offers to her.

Do you remember your mother's best dress of twenty years ago? Do you remember the innumerable occasions for which it did duty—the church supper, the high school graduation, the afternoon tea, the ladies' aid social, the concert, the formal call, the woman's club meeting? Again I could fill this column if I were to chronicle the occasions for which that gown was considered perfectly proper.

Compare that with today, and then prophesy what we shall have twenty years from today—if you dare.

While I am on this subject, I can't forbear to pass on to you a method which the dressmaker whom I quoted above has invented to eliminate one extra gown. It may help some young woman who wishes to keep up with the times but finds herself breathless, or rather penniless, in her efforts to do so. This dressmaker made a combination dancing frock and reception gown for one of her customers in the following way: She made a dancing frock with the tulle effect, which is so popular, and hanging about four inches from the floor. Under the tulle, where it wouldn't show, she put a broad tuck and she also fashioned a train which was to fall from the waist. When her customer wanted to go to a reception she lets down the tuck and sews on the train, and behold, a reception gown!

Perhaps by telling you this I am helping on the cause of this outrageous clothes differentiation, but I guess I am willing to risk it.
